Guaman Pomas krønike er en af de største skatte i Det Kgl. Bibliotek. Krøniken er skrevet i årene 1612-1615 af Andes-indianeren Guaman Poma og beskriver som eneste kilde et Andes-indiansk syn på den spanske erobring og de katastrofale forandringer i Peru i årtierne efter. Den 1200-sider lange, håndskrevne rapport med 400 helsides-illustrationer blev i 2007 anerkendt af UNESCO som en del af verdens umistelige kulturarv.

Det originale manuskript kan ses i Det Kgl. Biblioteks skatteudstilling i Montanasalen i Den Sorte Diamant.

Guaman Poma's chronicle is one of the greatest treasures at the Royal Danish Library. The chronicle was written in 1612-15 by the Andes Indian Guaman Poma and is the only source detailing and indigenous Andes view of the Spanish conquest and the disastrous changes that followed in Peru in the decades after. In 2007 the 1,200-page, handwritten report with 400 full-page illustrations was recognised by UNESCO as part of the world's irreplaceable cultural heritage.

Udstillingen vises i Det Kgl. Bibliotek, Den Sorte Diamant, Kirkebybroen

The exhibition is displayed in the Royal Danish Library, The Black Diamond, The Kirkeby Bridge
